MESSAGE

It is a matter of great pleasure for me to know that the third issue of Karachi University Journal of Islamic Studies is being published ahead of schedule. According to program the journal used to be published in July but now it is being published three months earlier. This deserves appreciation and is a good example for other faculties and institutions to follow.

It is also gratifying that the Faculty plans to publish two special journals: (i) "Seerat-e-Tayyaba" and (ii) "Pakistan" in next three months.

Besides the publication of Research Journals, the Faculty of Islamic Studies has organized three seminars on current affairs during these three months. Foreign and Pakistani scholars have addressed the seminars and they have elaborated and freely expressed their views on their topics. Such activities of the Faculty shall insha Allah bring good name to the University of Karachi.

I congratulate the Faculty of Islamic Studies for the publication of their third Research Journal and wish that they will continue their efforts accordingly.
