A GLIMPSES OF THE ARTICLES

1. Dr. Mukhtaruddin Ahmed: "Muntakhibul - Qauwafi Az Ishqui Azeemabady" is an impressive piece of research illustrating, with examples, the efforts of a 19th Century Persian and Urdu poet and his considerable contribution to Persian and Urdu poetry. The writer took pains in bringing before us some of the poet's hitherto unpublished poetry.
2. Dr. Mukhtaruddin Ahmed: "Risala-e-Qafia Az Joshish Azeemabady" is also an important research work telling us about Jaswant Rai Nagar's youngest son who embraced Islam and today is known as one of the greatest poets of Azeemabad. There is only one copy of his Risala-e-Qafia preserved in the famous Khuda Bakhsh Library of India.
3. Allama Akhlaq Hussain Dehlvi: "Tahqiqi Mazamin Ka Asloob" is an informative, instructive and a very useful essay, specially, for the students engaged in research. It consists of four parts and each part brings before us, in simple and lucid language, some basic and essential rules for conducting research. According to the writer a beginner should start with collecting information, arranging it in order, giving it a proper shape and finally presenting it in a suitable language for the work in hand. The knowledge of past and present helps in the organization of the material. The researcher should have a critical bend of mind and aesthetic sense for judging merits and demerits of the work before pronouncing any judgment, and the style must suit the subject.
4. Dr. Moinuddin Aqeel: "Urdu Mein Lisani Tahqiq - Rawayat Aur Masael" is a deep study of some linguistic pattern and changes in the development of Urdu Language. It traces the history of linguistic research in Urdu. The writer also points out how Indian and Pakistani tongues influence one effect on another, and how researches have found and noted some common words in these tongues.
